Vortex force

The IB-MSA104-CM cable management is offering a complete vertical floor to desk cable management solution.

The compact and stylishly shaped "vertebrae" segments are divided into four separated compartments for a complete segregation of power and data cables.

The length of the cable duct can be shortened individually by removing single vertebrae.

The extendable sections can be mounted to fixed or height adjustable desks. With no cables exposed, tripping hazards are avoided and obstacle free cleaning prevents dust and dirt build up.

Modular

The cable management consists of 30 removable "vertebrae", which allow it to flex and curve.

Flexible

The vertebral structure allows the cable management to extend or contract with your sit-stand adjustable desk height.

Sectional

Each "vertebra" is divided into four sections, thus cables can be segregated by function or type.
